

The Criminal Justice program offers a major and minor in Criminal Justice. The Criminal Justice major offers students a quality liberal arts experience. Coursework introduces students to theories of crime and interaction with the system, a comprehensive overview of the U.S. criminal justice system. Students also have the opportunity to gain practical experience through internships in areas such as law enforcement, corrections, and social justice work related to the criminal justice system. The major also awards credit for experiential learning. Students complete eleven (11) courses for the major and five

Double Major in Sociology and Criminal Justice: The Department of Justice & Society Studies also offers a major and minor in Sociology.
